

Abstract of the Disclosure

A liner is disclosed that is capable of being tuned or adjusted during manufacturing to absorb or reflect sound energy, as necessary or desired for a particular application. The liner is formed of a composite material comprising a combination or mixture of mineral fibers, such as glass fibers, and organic fibers, such as polypropylene fibers.